Mohawk to sponsor U.S. Navy contracting summit

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. – Mohawk Electrical Systems, Inc, known for production of the Claymore Weapon System, is proud to sponsor the Defense Leadership Forum – Navy Small Business Contracting Summit. The summit will be held March 6-7, 2017 at the University of North Florida in Jacksonville, Fla.

The mission of this summit is to provide opportunities to small businesses and defense contractors in the United States Navy fight against ISIS and other terrorist organizations that threaten the homeland. There are multiple contracting summits by Defense Leadership Forum throughout the year including contracting summits for the Air Force, Army and Navy.

The two-day event will feature contracting presentations from senior officials in the U.S. Navy and allow company matchmaking sessions.

Mohawk will be sponsoring the Navy Small Business Summit event and will be in Jacksonville both days of the summit. To learn more about this event and others held by Defense Leadership Forum, please visit their website: www.defenseleadershipforum.org
